The Heart of the Matter

On only a few rare occasions does the New Testament lift the veil and allow us entrance into the inner and intimate workings of a particular local church. This letter is one of those choice moments . . . and we find the scene most interesting. Here are three men who are singled out by John for our observation and instruction. Gaius, Diotrephes, and Demetrius, while actual personalities in the early church, represent for us three different types in the church today. We'll find much that is practical for our churches today as we examine these fifteen verses together. Let's pay close attention to each of these three individuals. Not only will we see others portrayed in their lives, we may even see something of ourselves.

Discovering the Way

1. 2 John and 3 John Back-to-Back

John's second and third letters were written by the same writer during the same era, but they have different purposes and they were sent to different places.

2. An Examination of the Letter

John gave a word of encouragement to Gaius in verses 1–8, a word of confrontation against Diotrephes in verses 9–11, a word of affirmation to Demetrius in verse 12, and a word of farewell in verses 13–15.

Starting Your Journey

Three principles apply to our churches today. First, variety will always be present, so let's preserve it. Second, disunity must never be tolerated, so let's resist it. Third, as long as Christ is given the preeminence, we can face any challenge.
